Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.3in.All new cars manufactured after September 1, 1983, will be required to have passive restraint systems requiring no action by occupants. The two systems being considered are air bags and automatic seat belts. The Secretary of Transportation mandated passive front seat restraint systems to overcome the publics reluctance to buckle up their seat belts. While the restraints offer life-saving and injury-prevention...
